

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Someone stole Goldberg's iron hitching post Monday night.

The Capitol Saloon has a new attraction in a company of vocalists—the Bavarian Warblers.

H. Ohnickske rejoices in the paternity of a fine boy baby. The youngster arrived Monday evening.

Patriotic Mexicans are now at work preparing for a proper observance of the Anniversary of Mexico's independence, September 16.

Bail has been refused by Justice Richards to William Doherty and the accused will await in the County Jail the action of the Grand Jury.

The Gazette has secured a lease of the large basement of the Porter Block and will, within a few days, remove thence their office and printing plant. Extensive alterations will be necessary in the new quarters, in order to secure the requisite light.

Walter Bolton, a farmer living six miles below Tempe, has been brought before Judge Franklin, charged with unlawfully diverting the water of the Tempe Canal. The complaint was made by Andrew Nelson, water overseer of the Southern Branch.

An inebriated printer tumbled from the back balcony of the Gazette office Monday night. He dropped about sixteen feet and landed upon a miscellaneous lot of small farming tools, back of Long & Spangenberg's. He broke up several hoes and rakes, but was not materially injured.

The local warehouses are being rapidly filled with grain, it being hauled in from the farms as soon as threshed. There is a bright prospect ahead for barley this year. The crop in California has been a poor one and a rise in value is sure to come. Barley is now quoted at about eighty cents per hundred.

The Chinese captured by Constable Stankard Monday evening were arraigned before Justice Richard yesterday. One of them plead guilty and was released on payment of a $5 fine. The other nine denied their guilt and each deposited $25 bail with the Justice to insure his appearance for trial today.

Edward Winslow, a middle-aged man who has but lately arrived from Florence, developed yesterday a pronounced case of measles. He came to County Physician Hughes for treatment and was, on recommendation of that official, placed by the Board of Supervisors in a room in the northern part of the city, and supplied with a nurse and medicines. All precautions are to be taken against the spread of the disease.
